

The letter for –Christmastime

Hey lady,

It's – the – most – won – der – ful time, of the year!

Even when there's so much going on and it feels like we're limping towards the imaginary finish line of summertime, wrapping up to-do lists, workloads and mental loads in a festive little bow, there's still a fair bit of magic in the air.

So, amongst the rush of it all, may the end of the year bring you precious time with those you love, who love you right back. May it bring you soul filling celebrations full of laughter, great food and cool drinks. May it bring you true rest; days of sitting in the sunshine under a wide brim hat, book in hand, feet tucked into the sand. And evenings gathered together under the stars, a cool breeze, a glass of crisp bubbles in one hand and a sparkler in the other. May it bring you calm reflection on the beauty of the year behind you and a spark of anticipation for the days yet to be discovered in the year ahead. May it leave you with a gorgeous pile of warm & fuzzy memories to tide you over in the everydayness that will inevitably begin again.

My wish for you, now and always, is deep peace and calm, an abundance of joy in the beautiful ordinary, good times with good people, authentic connection, unguarded laughter, desires realised, ease in your days and a heck of a lot of jingle in your bells!

Seasons Greetings! Happy Holidays! Merry Christmas! Happy New Year!

Sharing our time together in this lifetime is a privilege, and such a gift.

@ladyloveletters